Emergency SA conference

The Emergency SA (EMSA) conference hosted by CENA, ACEM and PA will be held in Adelaide on July 1st to 2nd 2016. The conference organisers have just put out a call for abstracts for concurrent sessions, posters, workshops and clinical updates. This is a good opportunity to get involved in your profession, hear about latest evidence and network with like-minded individuals from across the emergency care setting. For more information check out the EMSA website: <http://emergencysa.org.au/>

Members are reminded that CENA SA is offering two scholarships to attend the conference. This award is for registration fees only for one SA member and one national member to attend the two day conference. Additional costs such as travel or accommodation will need to be provided by the winner. For more information about the scholarship please visit the CENA website: <http://www.cena.org.au/sa-2>

December Strategic meeting

Date: December 5th

Location: exact venue to be determined at a later date (but will be close in or close to the Adelaide CBD).

Time: 3:30pm

How many patients should an Emergency Nurse care for?

Our CENA SA staffing standards are being updated prior to the next enterprise agreement to ensure the future safe staffing of all Emergency Departments in SA. In particular we want to better capture the needs of rural and regional ED's. In the past, these standards have been instrumental in changing how patients are cared for in SA's ED's. If you can help please contact Karen: cenasa@org.au. Help comes in many forms you may be a passionate clinician or manager with great ideas and golden anecdotal tips, or a post graduate student that has stumbled across relevant references, or be a pedantic proof reader. Please put your hand up.
